A MINISTER ASSAULTED.

Rev. H. G. Henderson Taken to Task by Col. E. H. Taylor, Jr., for Language Used in the Pulpit.

On Monday Col. E. H. Taylor, jr., approached Rev. H. G. Henderson, of the Methodist Church, on St. Clair street, in front of a furniture store, and as related by Mr. Henderson said substantially:

"The capital states you said in the pulpit yesterday that any man who votes for Mr. Breckinridge is committing a wrong and knows that he sears his conscience when he thus indorses him. Have you no apology to make for that broad charge, knowing that I intend to vote for him?"

Mr. Henderson replied that he had none, when Mr. Taylor said: "You are a liar and scoundrel."

Mr. Henderson rejoined, "That is only your opinion, and I might add the same to you."

With this, Mr. Taylor appeared to draw back as if to strike the minister, but refrained and said, "No, you are too small and insignificant for a gentleman to notice."

Of course, the day being County Court day, when the city was filled with more people than had been here on a similar occasion for some months, it is easy to imagine the effect of such an assault on a minister of the gospel and the endless gossip created by it. Ministers of other denominations were aroused over the occurrence and one had the courage to tell Mr. Taylor that it was no evidence of bravery to attack a man whose conscience and calling bind him hand and foot.

Mr. Taylor, on Tuesday, in speaking of the matter, said:

"The minister in the daily paper yesterday, in his assault on me, was another on my list of incorrect persons."

Used in the daily paper, in his assault on me, was another on my list of incorrect persons. Used in the daily paper, in his assault on me, was another on my list of incorrect persons.

ville, and also to Shaker Ferry the last of each week. This month will be a delightful time of the year to travel on the river, the weather being warm enough to sit out on the guards of the boat during the day and cool enough at night, while the boat is in motion, to require a covering on the bed. Add to this the cheap rates and beautiful scenery, and there is little more to be desired for the pleasure and comfort of people who cannot leave their business or haven't the means to spare to make a long trip and yet feel the necessity of a few days recreation to restore their health for the cares and labors of another year.

THE KENTUCKY RIVER.

Appropriation Raised by Our Senators but Reduced by the Conference Committee.

It will doubtless surprise the citizens here interested in the improvement of the Kentucky river, to learn that notwithstanding the good work accomplished by Senators Lindsay and Blackburn in the Senate, by which they had secured an additional appropriation of $100,000 for our river, the Conference Committee cut the total sum down from $200,000 to $125,000. If the Seventh district, which pays several millions of dollars annually in revenue to the General Government, had a member of the House of any practical value whatever, to his constituency, he would never have suffered this shameful reduction of so small an appropriation to be made on a work of such importance as the Kentucky river, to his own district and section of the country.

Indifferent to the needs of his district and without influence now in Congress, if he felt inclined to press a measure to a successful issue, the record of the public services of the present Representative of this district, who is asking endorsement from the voters of the counties along the river, should be sufficient of itself, aside from the moral grounds of opposition, to consign him to a retirement from the political fields in which vanity, verbosity and vitiosity have been his chief distinguishing characteristics.

Blood Will Tell.

According to the condition of it. If in bad order it shows itself in pimples, sallow complexion and various eruptions of the skin. If in good order it shows in the clear complexion, the glow of health, the good spirits. The latter condition you can produce by the use of Dr. Hale's Household Tonic, the great blood purifier and nerve tonic. 25c. and 50c. a package at P. H. CARPENTER'S drug store.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS.

The Mails are Made the Vehicle of Such Assassins of Character.

It has been learned that some person in this city, thought to be a woman, has lately been sending anonymous letters through the mails to certain ladies and gentlemen who the sender knew were contemplating matrimony. The letters purport to reveal the private history of the lady or gentleman, and of course, under such circumstances, would never be otherwise than abusive and insulting in the pretended information conveyed. It is a pity that the difficulties of identifying and capturing such infamous murderers of the peace and happiness of good people are often too great to overcome, but in this instance, it is said, the postoffice authorities have traced the letters to one woman, who, under the guise of a lady, has descended to the level of an assassin of character; to obtain the weapons of which trade would require that she have an intimate knowledge of all the lewd women of the city and their daily visiting list.

Grasp the Opportunity.

Our enterprising druggist, P. H. CARPENTER, cordially invites you to try a 25c. bottle of Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure. This new remedy acts quickly on the bronchial tubes, throat and lungs, lessens the desire to cough and heals mucous membrane. If consumption it will cure you. Pleasant to take. The children like it.

Notes of the Mills Meeting.

Do the Christian people fully realize the importance of the coming Mills Meetings? If they do they will be continually invoking the blessing of God to turn the hearts of the people to it. We have our churches and God's ministers working all the time, laboring for souls, but the minds of the people are so immersed in worldly affairs, politics and the like, that it takes extraordinary means to awaken them to the greatest of all work, namely, saving of souls.

The choir for the meeting, under the direction of Prof. Wayland Graham, have had two very encouraging rehearsals at the Baptist Church. If the men singers will only turn out like the ladies do, this will be the finest chorus ever heard in Frankfort. The effect of the singing of a mighty chorus in a great revival meeting is truly soul-stirring. There is much work yet for this chorus to do, but we believe that Prof. Graham, with his accustomed energy, will bring it up to Mr. Mills' high expectations.

The prospect for a successful beginning on the 25th of this month, in the big tent to be erected upon Major Carlton's vacant lot, is very promising indeed. The Finance Committee have raised nearly half of the required amount and if the remainder of the citizens to be called upon respond with the liberality of those already subscribing, there will be no trouble about finances. The committee will go around from day to day until they complete their work.

Communicated.

To the tobacco men of the Ashland District:

FELLOW CITIZENS—We are now engaged in an important political campaign, and one in which we tenant farmers and laborers in tobacco are to play an important part. A certain class of office-bought politicians have presumed upon our ignorance to an extent that led them to suppose they could count upon us in any event. For their own selfish purposes they have presented to us a candidate who, by his own confession, is a base hypocrite, a purjured liar and a vile libertine; who has been proven a dishonest embezzler of other people's money. And then one of their chosen leaders, following in the lead and filthy footsteps of his chief, proposes to "breed the maidens of the Blue Grass, especially the daughters of the tobacco men, to their candidate."

For what? That they might have the honor, and their children more sense. Here is another presumption upon our ignorance. Now, tobacco men, I talk to you as one of you, and I ask you, in God's name, are you going to resent this base insult to ourselves, our mothers, our wives and our daughters, or are you indeed the poor ignorant brutes they have assumed you to be? Will you indorse a candidacy the legitimate outgrowth of which is lewdness and shame, and allow the leaders of that candidacy to proclaim your wives and daughters the victims of their lewd passions and shameful conduct? No, my countrymen, we are not classical scholars, we know but little about Latin and Greek or the occult sciences, but God has given us common horse sense, and we know it is wrong to support a jack-ass for Congress. Let me appeal to you in the name of your own honor, in the name of the purity of your wives and daughters, in the name of the God of our fathers, to leave the ranks of these vile insulters of womanly virtue and manly pride; join with the wealth and purity and honesty and intelligence of this district and blot this infamous memory from our history. I know some of you have honestly drifted into the Breckinridge camp, and it was natural, but you have no further excuse. You know now the theory and would-be practice of Col.

B. and his leaders, and you cannot escape the responsibility resting upon you. Vote for the Colonel and you indirectly indorse the sentiment of Col. Leer; vote for him and you insult the mothers who gave you birth, the wives you have sworn to protect, and the daughters you should rear in the paths of virtue. There are good men for Col. Breckinridge and the Colonel has many followers; but deduct from the list all the hypocrites, liars, libertines, tramps, vagabonds and office holders, and the good men are so few. My brethren come out from this horde of pests, and show the world that you are men worthy of the name; that you will defend you loved ones at the ballot box or on the field of battle; that you scorn the accursed villain who gave utterance to that vile insult, and that you will rise in your might and crush him, his leader and his party. If you do not, then you are the ignorant brutes they have branded you. Then indeed they have judged you aright, and you are unworthy of the noble wives and daughters with which heaven has blessed you. On the 13th of this month you will record your standing. Shall it be for virtue or vice, for right or wrong, for pride or shame? May Heaven guide you aright. Truly yours,

BELLOPUS,
A Tobacco Man.

How to Become Fleeshy.

Dr. Miles Nerveine not only cures all nervous diseases, headache, blues, nervous prostration, sleeplessness, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, fits and hysteria, but also builds up the body. "I am pleased to say that after years of intense suffering with nervous disease, headache and prostration, I feel Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerveine, and in two weeks gained eight pounds in weight. I could not lie down to sleep, but now sleep perfectly easy, and am still improving wonderfully. Cannot say enough for the Nerveine."—Mrs. L. B. MILKLAND, Dunkirk, N. Y. "One customer used Nerveine and gained fifteen pounds in flesh," says BROWN & MAYBURY, Cortland, N. Y. Trial bottles and elegant book free at J. W. Gayle's.

Kentucky Sunday-School Convention.

The twenty-ninth Annual Convention of the Kentucky Sunday-School Union was held at Russellville on August 28th to 30th. Nearly four hundred delegates representing the various sections of the State were present. The leading denominations contributed to the makeup of the Convention. No more bountiful hospitality could have been dispensed than that which was received from the hands of the beautiful little "Knob City." A convention is seldom held that awakens a wider local interest than did this. The attendance upon all of its sessions fully taxed the capacity of the spacious Methodist Church, the place of meeting. The program was one of the best ever presented to a convention in the State. It provided for the fullest consideration of the great phases of modern Sunday-School work. Among those who filled places on the program were Mr. Wm. Reynolds of Peoria, Ill.; Miss Mabel Hall of Chicago, the famous primary teacher; Rev. J. R. Deering of Versailles; Rev. C.

The discussions were marked by highly practical aims and were for the most part rich in suggestion. The singing under the direction of Mr. H. W. Dohrmann, of Louisville, was greatly enjoyed.

The report of the Executive Committee showed good progress in all departments of the work during the past year. In the face of the "hard times" an excellent financial standing was made. There has been great advancement in the actual work of the schools of the State. There is large employment of the most approved methods. The new era in primary work is just beginning. Better preparations for teachers is being secured through a large use of the normal course of study. Judge John Suter, of Louisville, was the President of the Convention.

It is proposed to make the 30th annual convention, which will be held next year at some point in the central part of the State, a memorable occasion.

The Land of Promise

Is the mighty West, the land that "rings with a shoe laughs a harvest"; the El Dorado of the miner; the goal of the agricultural emigrant. While it teems with all the elements of wealth and prosperity, some of the fairest and most fruitful portions of it bear a harvest of malarial reaped in its fullness by those unprotected by a medical safeguard. No one seeking or dwelling in a malarial locality is safe from the scourge without Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Emigrants, bear this in mind. Commercial travelers sojourning in malarial regions should carry a bottle of the Bitters. In the traditional gripes, Against the effects of exposure, mental or bodily fatigue, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, it is an infallible defense. Constipation, rheumatism, biliousness, dyspepsia, nervousness and loss of strength are all remedied by this general restorative.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky, as second-class mailable matter.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Editor and Pub.

FRANKFORT, SEPTEMBER 8, 1894.

Our Editor's Mistake.

The editor of the ROUNDABOUT has been away from home this week, and consequently has been spared the painful necessity of reading the strictures of a local afternoon paper upon his conduct in permitting the insertion, in our last issue, of the correspondence of "Bulldofus," in which that gentleman pays his respects to Breckinridge and Leer. None the less, however, has the burden of our contemporary's displeasure been felt in the office. From the sub-editor to the carriers and from the foreman to the devil; from the largest font of wood type to the smallest letter of nonpareil; from the chase to the shooting-stick and from the mallet to the plane; from the cylinder to the proof press and from Weston's Ledger to No. 2. News—everything and everybody connected with us is bowed down with grief and shame.

In the great plague of London, in 1665, the house in which the dread disease made its appearance was "marked with a prayer," and, feeling that the occasion when we have, directly or indirectly, given a supporter of Breckinridge a chance to accuse us of indecency, is scarcely less of a calamity to us than the plague itself was to London, we engrave the mark on the tablet of our memory and use the words of that prayer:

"GOD HAVE MERCY UPON US."

Quarantine Diphtheria.

Diphtheria is a dreadful disease and one that has brought sorrow to nearly every household in which it has entered. It is for this reason that the greatest care and precaution should be taken to prevent any further spread of it in this city. No parents would willingly suffer their children, if afflicted with the disease, to come in contact with other children, whose death, should the malady be contracted and prove fatal, they would have resting as a weight on their conscience; but they should be equally cautious and careful about allowing other members of their household to mingle freely with children and especially about sending a child to school whose throat may be sore and show premonitory symptoms of the disease. Let the Board of Health see to it that the four cases in Bellepoint and two on the South Side are confined wholly to the unfortunate homes in which they are now progressing.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Something About the Docket for the Court to Begin, on Next Monday.

The Circuit Court of this county will begin its September term Monday. The docket is unusually large, there being more than 550 cases in all to be disposed of, but a good part of these are old and continued cases which will probably be hastily passed over to the next term, while another portion of the later cases will necessarily be continued for want of preparation to go into trial. The equity docket shows 154 continued cases and 88 new cases. The ordinary docket contains 76 indictments, 34 continued cases and 154 new cases. The fiscal docket, or Commonwealth cases for revenue, number 50. Among the indictments are 45 against those who gave away whisky on the last city election day. The cases of the city against the Deposit, State National and Frankfort National Banks for city taxes, levied under the new charter and tax ordinance, and the case of A. K. Lair, of Scott county, a stockholder, against the Kentucky Midland Railroad, transferred from Scott county and having an answer and cross petition filed by the Home Construction Company, are of most public interest. The cases of Ben. Jackson and Wm. Follis, for alleged damages sustained in being thrown from a buggy by the Capital Railway Co., and also the cases against the same company by Lewis Peveler, James Dean, Robt. Berry, Frank Rossen and John Follis for alleged injury to their property on the Leestown turnpike road, along which the street railway runs, are among other private cases for trial this term. The grand jury in session next week will probably take up the lynching of Marshall Boston and may remain long enough to consider offenses, if any, of bribery, perjury or other violations of the primary and election law. Judge Cantrill's courage in dealing with such offenders is unquestioned, and the people have every confidence in his integrity and sense of responsibility in the discharge of his duty to enforce the law.

BRIDGE STREET WIDENED.

Proceedings in the County Court to Condemn and Appraise the Property.

The city instituted proceedings in the county court last Monday looking to the widening of the east side of Bridge street from the new iron bridge to the Fincel block. It is proposed to remove the houses and extend the sidewalk back ten feet, to conform to the line of the street at the Fincel block. Messrs. D. M. Woodson, R. C. Steele and Job Smith were appointed appraisers, who on Tuesday filed their report with County Clerk Smith, stating that the property condemned belonged to Kate E. and W. H. Ford, with a reversionary life interest owned by Jane S. Reddish, the whole value of which they adjudged as follows:

For the ten feet of ground . . . $337.50
For the buildings . . . 1,500.00

Total . . . $1,837.50

The city will pay this money to the owner and have the street and sidewalk constructed at once. It will be a decided improvement to that part of the city and doubtless cause an appreciation of the abutting property which will become more valuable for business houses.

Wills Probated.

The following wills were admitted to probate in the county court last Monday, viz:

Wm. Craik, the late sexton of the cemetery, who gives to his daughter, Jennie Craik, 20 shares of stock of the Capital Gas and Electric Light Co.; one City of Frankfort bridge bond of $1,000, and all his household furniture and personal property in his house at the time of his death. To his daughter, Jennie, and son, Henry, jointly, he gives three lots of ground with three cottages on the same, fronting on Todd street, which were devised by will to him by his wife, Christina Craik. The rest of his estate, real, personal and mixed, he devises to all his children, Jennie, Walter, Henry, Jessie and Robert Craik, share and share alike. He desires that the property bequeathed to his daughters, Jennie and Jessie Craik, be held by them separate and apart from the control or use of any husbands either of them may have hereafter, and lastly appoints his son, Henry, and daughter, Jennie, as executor and executrix of his will. The instrument was signed Jan. 8, 1894, and was attested by W. C. Herndon and A. H. McClure.

Patrick Ward, colored, devised that all his real and personal estate should go to his wife, Easter Ward, during her life, and at her death it is to descend to his son, Fielding Ward, and thence to his son Fielding Ward's children. Ed. Fahy is named as executor and the will is witnessed by Jno. L. Scott and South Thomas, and signed Oct. 30, 1884.

Nancy Welch, colored, signed her will on April 18, 1894, and it was witnessed by Kate P. Sage and E. E. Underwood. She directed that certain small sums be paid to several of her friends and the bulk of her personal effects she bequeaths to Mrs. Ann Graves. Mrs. Kate Sage is named as executrix.

Real Estate Transfers.

Her remains were taken to Louisville for interment and the funeral took place Wednesday from the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Rubel, wife of Mr. W. T. Major G. M. Adams, Pension Agent, has appointed Col. S. S. Anderson to the clerkship made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Kate Patton, of this city. Col. Anderson was Assistant Adjutant General during the administration of Gov. Buckner and made many friends in this city who will be glad to hear of his appointment.

Col. Breckinridge was in the city Thursday and spoke at Elmview that afternoon. On the same day there was a large delegation of Owens' friends here from the various counties in the district, holding a meeting of consultation and advisement on the prosecution of the campaign. The friends of Mr. Settle also held a meeting here the same day and issued an address to the people of district.

The drift pile at the bridge, from some unknown cause, caught fire Saturday night and flamed high enough to threaten danger to the bridge when the alarm was sounded and the fire department responded and poured a heavy stream of water upon the burning logs and brush. It was thought the fire was completely extinguished when the department left the scene, but the logs were still smoking Sunday night. No damage, however, resulted.

Wm. Morris, of Wolfe county, was brought to this city Sunday by E. C. Jones, a member of the Grannan Detective Agency, charged with the murder of a Constable in Milan county, Texas. J. H. Bicket, of Milan county, who was here with J. J. Barton to identify the prisoner, pronounced it a case of a mistaken identity and Morris was released. The arrest was made in accordance with a description sent to Jones by Chief of Police Tobin, of this city.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Y. M. C. A. Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, football players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one-half the time usually required. For sale by PHIL CARPENTER, South Side Druggist.

The Ladies Take Action.

The ladies of Frankfort have issued a call, bearing the signatures of about ninety of the most prominent maids and matrons of the city, for a meeting to be held in the parlors of the Capital Hotel this afternoon at four o'clock. Its purpose is to take such measures as may be in their power to assist in compassing the defeat of Breckinridge. The meeting should be largely attended.

CRUTCHER & STARKS!

Frankfort, Kentucky.

To the Voters of Franklin County.

FRANKFORT, KY., Aug. 1894.
Yielding to the flattering and earnest solicitation of partial friends and representative citizens of all political faiths, I have, contrary to my purpose to never again stand for office, determined to make the race for County Judge at the November election, 1894. This is the most important office in the county government. In the hands of the County Judge are placed the liberties of the citizens in criminal trials before examining court, as also the moneyed interests of a large class of debtors and creditors, litigating matters of account in the quarterly court, besides the settlement and oversight of the estates of widows and orphans.

The taxing interests of the citizens in the hands of the County Judge and the Magistrates.
So it will be seen that your County Judge wields a large influence in county affairs. No more taxes should be laid than are absolutely necessary to meet the bonded indebtedness at its maturity and the annual accruing interest thereon, together with the necessary amount to conduct the county government upon economic, honest business principles. A part of the bonded debt should be met by the next generation, as they are to be equally benefited by it.

It is local taxation and the distribution of the funds derived therefrom that comes home directly to the county and city taxpayer, for it must be met and is felt in proportion to the ability to meet it. Therefore, it is the right of the citizen to demand of his county court the lowest per cent of tax each year consistent with an economic, honest and impartial government, and to have this tax promptly collected, and honestly and fairly applied to the good of the entire county.

The good people of my native city and county have honored me time and again by electing me to different and important offices. My election for four successive terms to the office which I am soon to voluntarily surrender, while evidencing the partiality and most generous favor of my personal as well as political following, is an earnest of my faithful, impartial and successful discharge of duty in the past, and must be my guarantee for the future.

I have in no sense sought this office, and if I am elected to it I must be elected by the uncorrupted vote of the people, as I will not bring to bear any corrupting influences to obtain it. At the proper time I will visit the precincts of the county.

Respectfully,
W. H. SKEED.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had had colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by PAUL CARPENTER, South Side Druggist.

It May Do as Much For You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statements. Price only 50 cents for large bottle. At P. H.
